

Paglagipin

Attention I do not know how to write a statement of Faith but I can tell you the journey's I have had since becoming saved.

Baptism with drops of water or immersion into water.

Baptism means to be repentant and that I as an individual want to have a clean slate when I come to know the Lord Jesus Christ and ask him into my heart. And I am called to baptize and to let individuals know the meaning of baptism that I may make disciples of all nations as it says in the word of God.

There is also a baptism of the Holy Spirit.

This is your heavenly language given by the Holy Spirit so making my prayer time more personal and working miracles as I lift up all my brothers and sisters in Christ who are in need. Because sometimes I do not know how to pray or what to pray about so the Holy Spirit helps me with groans or tongues of fire to help on this much needed task.

Communion:

Breaking bread together as Jesus did with his disciples and teaching them that the bread is sacred and each individual must examine themselves and repent before partaking in this event. Bread is Jesus body broken for me. The Wine is Jesus blood shed for me. Oh how I would love to have communion with Jesus to sit at his table so I may see and hear what it's like and to understand it fully and see the love in his eyes for each one.

The purpose of the Church is to encourage individuals who are looking for answers as I did after I sobered up, many years ago. It is a place of encouragement, for those seeking new friends and to fellowship with other believing individuals, who will uplift me as I journey through life. There is no place I'd rather be than to fellowship with those who have had years of experience in church and to hear the testimonies of God's saving Grace so that I may be encouraged in all I say or do.

I have had many teachers and prayer partners who have taught me starting in 1997 when I first became sober. I commend all those who have gone on before and have finished their race. Oh how I strive to encourage individuals of all the preparations before the great day of the Lord.

Eunice Arzuola